Pastoral Care Policy

Rationale

Pastoral Care in St. Macartan's Primary School, Clogher is a priority. It is acknowledged as playing a crucial role in the development of the ethos of the school. This ethos is based on Christian, Catholic values with emphasis on the intellectual, moral, emotional and spiritual development of each pupil.

The Pastoral Care Policy supports the school in promoting a caring, supportive environment in which staff and pupils can work in an atmosphere of mutual respect.

It will inform and reassure parents that their children are being educated in a safe and caring environment. Pastoral Care in St. Macartan's is based on the principles of good relationships and mutual respect. The staff are acutely aware of the challenges and influences that children may encounter living in the 21st century i.e. varied models of family unit, the very real challenges in terms of child abuse, parental difficulties in raising children and the ever-changing messages and influences from society towards issues such as sex, drugs and leisure in relation to health, violence etc.

In St. Macartan's Primary School, we recognise that central to the success of this is the involvement of parents and other outside agencies within the community. We strive to work in partnership with them to achieve our aims.

Taught curriculum

A taught PDMU programme is delivered to all classes. It aims to empower young people with the knowledge, values/attitudes and skills required to make good choices in their lives. Active learning strategies are employed to ensure the delivery of the programme.

Role of the co-ordinator

The Principal has overall responsibility for Pastoral Care in St. Macartan's Primary School. The Principal is also the co-ordinator. When necessary, she advises staff on curriculum content and relevant issues relating to Pastoral Care. Pastoral care is a shared responsibility.

Role of the class teacher

- Having a clear understanding of the vision of the school in respect of its children, its community and its point of development.
- Contributing to the development of policies which establish principles for action throughout the school.

- Fostering relationships where children feel happy and secure and find staff approachable at all times.

Encouraging and motivating pupils at class level

Each class teacher is responsible for knowing the children they teach and for delivering the Northern Ireland Curriculum. Teachers will provide a listening ear and provide reassurance.

It is the classroom teacher who will create a climate in which the children feel safe and secure and the teacher will encourage pupil motivation and commitment.

The personal and social development of pupils will grow from the close relationship between the teacher and the pupils, e.g. recognising personal achievement.

Through daily classroom practice, the self – esteem of children will be developed, positive attitudes will be promoted and teacher will raise pupils' social awareness, e.g. Circle Time and Love for Life. There will be an opportunity to explore attitudes and those of others.

The class teacher will endeavour to provide time for the children to reflect on what they have learned and provide opportunities for children to evaluate their own learning so that children will appreciate their own development and adopt a positive attitude to learning.

Together teacher and children will discuss and develop class rules and these, together with the school rules, will be reinforced each academic year.

Encouraging and motivating pupils at a whole- school level

Children will also be encouraged on a wider whole school level by:

The principal's report in each meeting outlines the activities and programmes undertaken by the school and they are informed about all Child Protection issues at each meeting.

Partnership with Parents

The school as a community should be seen as an extended family where everyone works for the common good. Parents will always be made welcome and encouraged to feel that their role is important and appreciated. Parents, teachers and all staff will share duties as part of a mutual team. This partnership with good communication and cooperation will be necessary for the all round development of each child.

Review and Monitoring

The Board of Governors reviews this policy every three years. The school staff regularly review the policy with regard to its implementation. The Principal ensures that the policy is implemented on a day to day basis and that all staff are aware of the details of the policy as it applies to them.
